DEDICATED TO THE MEMORY OF

MR. LAWRENCE SUDLOW

In the beginning there came a man among those Oaks. He earned no great scholarly degrees, or held no high administrative office, but he was willing to work. He possessed no great talent, but developed useful skills greatly needed in the development of a college. His hard work and faithful service stands as some of the foundational building blocks in our college. This man who came first among us is now gone, but we the students, faculty, administration, staff, and even the oaks will remember.

FOREWORD

Bethel College, previously shadowed from the public eye, has in the last few years emerged with a new impetus. As a result of student participation and well-planned activities, the community has been introduced to the potentialities of the college. It is the purpose of this yearbook, The Helm, to show this new concept of Bethel through the news media. We present this yearbook to the students, faculty, staff, and the community portraying "Bethel in the News."

INTERIOR AND EXTERIOR CHANGES

Many interior and exterior changes took place during this school year. The President of the College moved to a newly decorated office in the Administration Building. The lobby of Shupe Hall was redecorated with woodpaneling and a reception desk. The entire campus has taken on a look of improvement with the landscaping project completed during the summer. The newest addition on campus is the men's dormitory. This modernly equipped building will fulfill the need of men's housing facilities.

The new men's dorm continues to take shape as the newest addition on campus.

Mr. Brown is one of the many new professors on campus.

The Bethel College campus became the home of many new people with the arrival of the largest freshman class in its history. Also there were several new members added to the Bethel faculty and staff.

Several new courses were initiated as the new program of study was begun with the freshman class.

Mrs. Sudlow represents one of the several new cooks in the cafeteria kitchen.

STUDENTS IN

THE COMMUNITY

Bethel is proud that her students are not limited to only on-campus activities; they enjoy taking an active part in organizations of their community. The college choir and musical ensembles provide entertainment and spiritual enlightenment to many civic groups. Serving the community another way are Bethel's coeds, providing babysitting service. Student pastors serve the community in churches and Christian organizations. Through the Education Department, upperclassmen often tutor students of this area and local children are entrusted to student teachers. Bethel students living in a community are naturally consumers and are an asset to various business establishments. Involvement of her students in the community places "Bethel in the News."

Many Bethel students make their nightly pilgrimage to Sandu's.

Student pastors, Norm Zimmerman, Jae Johns, and Jim Marks, find fulfillment in correlating college studies and church responsibilities.

DIVISION OF FINE ARTS

Professor Myron Tweed, Chairman

The objectives of the Division of Fine Arts are:

- A. To enable the students to make an important contribution to services of Christian worship through proficiency in music and art.
- B. To prepare them for various vocations within the fields of music and art.
- C. To contribute to the general cultural life of the college and community by developing an intelligent appreciation of and desire for the beautiful.

These objectives are achieved by the following general aims:

1. To develop an appreciation of the arts as a means of worship by cultivating a taste for the best in sacred instrumental and hymnic literature and religious art and by giving opportunity for students to aid the worship of others through artistic and musical media.
2. To develop an appreciation of the secular arts as a cultural influence by hearing and seeing the masterpieces in each art, and by studying the lives and works of outstanding artists.
3. To coordinate the fine arts in the educational program by acquainting students with vocational possibilities and provide thorough training for positions after graduation.
4. To study the skills and techniques of each art.
5. To develop the whole personality by liberating the creative drives, sharing the ideas and feelings of great minds and reproducing them for others, and acquiring poise through public participation in fine arts activities.

JoAnn Frey is instructed by Professor Nordgren during her weekly voice lesson.

One can note many news items in local publications concerning activities within this division. Professors and students alike present their talents at service clubs, private functions and church worship services. The community is becoming aware of the exceptional Concert Choir which appears at area events.

Professor Nordgren prepares Oratorio Society for its performances.

Dole Taylor demonstrates the mellow tone on his "Golden Trombone."

Mr. Weaver contributes to the general cultural life of the college by showing his musical talents.

DIVISION OF EDUCATION,

PSYCHOLOGY,

Dr. Stanley Taylor, Chairman of Department.

Objectives:

Develop an understanding and appreciation of the role of education.

Develop professional attitude and a desire to serve humanity.

Help students to develop an adequate philosophy of education.

Stimulate students to build their teaching careers on sound teaching principles and methods and to provide the opportunity to put these in practice.

Encourage the acquisition and expression of the attributes of mental and physical health.

Provide every student with a basic understanding of the development, functions, and need of the human personality.

Physical Education class provides recreation, as well as exercise, coordination, and spirited competition.

AND PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Miss Getz shares an educational experience with her psychology class.

The division with the largest student enrollment is the Division of Education, Psychology, and Physical Education. Dr. Stanley Taylor serves as chairman.

Drawing many part-time students from the local area, sending student teachers to local schools, requiring class room observations from juniors—these are a few of the facets of this division which appear from time to time in the news.

Miss Schultz explains an arithmetic method using the overhead projector.

Several class sessions of Audio-Visual Methods are devoted to laboratory work. Dan Thornhill, Gary Crawford, and John Reynolds work on various assigned projects.

DIVISION OF RELIGION

Rev. Donald Taylor, Chairman of Division

Rev. Donald Taylor serves as chairman of the division whose objectives follow:

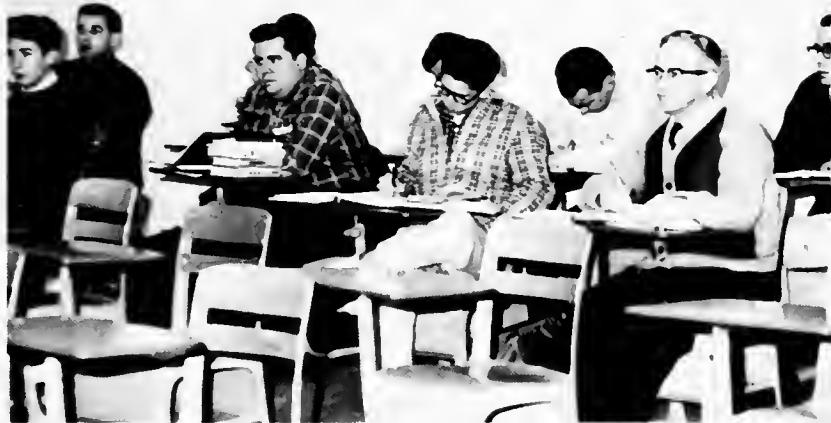

1. To provide an extensive study of the Bible and the several books and book groups of the Bible.
2. To motivate the student to continued Bible study.
3. To train the student in great doctrines of the Bible, examining view of various faiths but giving emphasis and acceptance of scriptural holiness, known as Arminian-Wesleyan view.
4. To give training in critical studies concerning the Bible and its defense, holding to a conservative view with a knowledge of the views of others.
5. To stimulate Christian faith and to encourage the student in practical Christian living so as to lead him to an established experience of faith in Jesus Christ as personal Saviour and Sanctifier with a readiness to witness his faith and to maintain a passion for the salvation of others.
6. To prepare the student for full time Sunday school or church work.
7. To improve skills in teaching and development in religious instruction of persons of all groups.
8. To prepare the prospective missionary for understanding and solution of vocational problems.
9. To stimulate an interest in missions on the part of students preparing for full time Christian service.
10. To prepare the prospective minister for vocational skills in the art of preaching and church administration.

Joe Jahns, a ministerial student, prepares for his duties as student pastor.

AND PHILOSOPHY

Since Bethel College is a Christian Liberal Arts College, this particular division is important to the over-all program. Man is concerned with the vital questions of life. To aid the student in finding satisfying answers is surely a primary goal of the Division of Religion and Philosophy.

In Doctrine of Holiness class, students study the person and work of the Holy Spirit and a systematic philosophy of the teachings of holiness.

Ministerial students learn principles of sermon construction in Homiletics.

DIVISION OF LANGUAGE

Critical Thinking and Writing class gives students the opportunity to develop creative ability and to learn constructive evaluation.

Mr. Earl Reimer is the chairman of the Division of Language and Literature. The community becomes aware of this division through the drama productions and the debate teams. The college catalog states the aims of this division as follows:

- To teach students to read, listen, and speak effectively.
- To teach students to think analytically and critically.
- To inspire aesthetic appreciation for the artistry of great writers.
- To inspire students to become dedicated to an understanding and compassionate view of man in his relation to other men and to God, through the study of the great thoughts of the great writers of the literature of the world.

AND LITERATURE

Professor Earl Reimer, Chairman of the Division of Language and Literature.

Greek Class offers a challenge to students entering a variety of vocations.

Dr. Anna Leatherman, Chairman of Division

DIVISION NATURAL

Dr. Anna Leatherman has served as acting chairman this year. Various aspects of the division have been featured in the news, such as special lectures and films. Professors within the department have also been guest lecturers at community affairs.

In this age of advanced scientific theory, the fulfillment of the objectives of this division is especially necessary for a liberal arts education. The college catalog states these purposes thus:

1. Become more fully acquainted with the physical, biological, chemical, and mathematical aspects of God's creation.
2. Be trained to understand and to use the scientific method.
3. Develop intellectual and moral integrity.

OF SCIENCE

Don Artz and George Bahbah cooperate in the solution of a scientific problem.

Professor Wayne Hoover lectures to students in General Chemistry class on various chemical laws.

DIVISION OF SOCIAL SCIENCE

Professor Allen Stouffer, chairman of Division of Social Science.

Objectives of the Division:

1. To help the student to interpret the actions of the social order in relation to a Christian philosophy of life.
2. To help the student understand the principles of life in society and to understand the problems which arise from our complex society today.
3. To help the student to appreciate the influences which affected the formation of our nation and thus to understand better its present day problems.
4. To help the student to be a more effective citizen of his community and of his country.
5. To help the student to understand better the political and economic problems which confront the world today and the conditions from which they arise.
6. To give the prospective teacher some of the knowledge and skills needed in his profession.
7. To give the preprofessional student the training which he needs in order to pursue more specialized courses elsewhere.

This division strives to accomplish these purposes as stated in the college catalog by various means. A yearly excursion to Washington D. C., special lectures, seminars—these all play a part in fulfilling these divisional goals. Mr. Allen Stouffer is serving as acting chairman this year.

Charlene Sherman "bones up" on Ancient Roman customs for her class in European Civilization.

American History lecture periods often find students engaged in note taking.

ORIENTATION

The Student-Faculty Reception is the first formal introduction of the faculty to the students. Sponsored by the Bethel Ladies' Auxiliary, the reception had a 18th Century theme. A string quartet, composed of musicians from the area, entertained as the students were received by faculty and administration members. The evening was indeed a delightful one, brought about by the cultural atmosphere.

Stan Reilly makes financial arrangements with Mr. Losle.

Freshmen Dave Mann and Mike Reynolds look over the situation.

WEEK . . .

The first week of school is perhaps the most dreaded, but one of the most memorable, of the school year. Filling out forms, waiting in line, selecting classes, making out schedules, and completing financial arrangements are all a part of registration. This new experience results in much excitement and frustration for the "green" freshmen.

Students discuss tentative schedules for first semester with their faculty advisors.

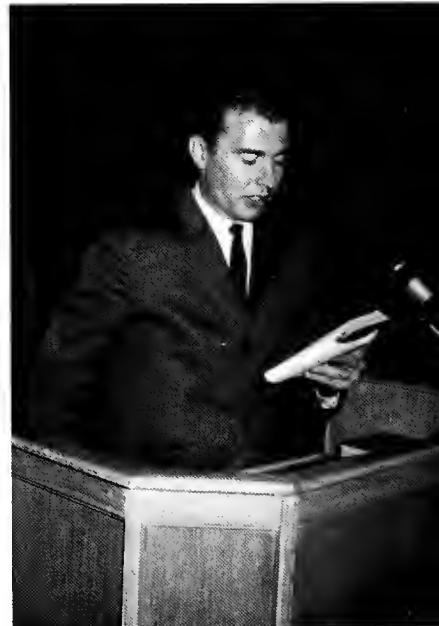

SPIRITUAL LIFE RECEIVES SPECIAL EMPHASIS

As a Christian college, Bethel gives a prominent place in its co-curricular program to spiritual values and to the development of a Christian insight and commitment on the part of its students. Chapel services, held four times weekly, unite the faculty and students in their common experience of worship. The thirty minute services are chiefly religious in emphasis although an occasional period may be devoted to non-religious considerations. They are a means of spiritual uplift during the busy school day. A Wednesday evening service is conducted on the campus for the students, who are encouraged by this means to give expression to their Christian experience through public prayer and praise. A religious emphasis week is held in the early part of each semester. During this period a guest speaker ministers in the daily chapel services, which are extended to an hour in length, and in specially scheduled evening services. This year's speakers were Jay Kesler and Robert Waggoner.

Rich Thomas, chairman of the Religious Life Committee, directs the weekly Vesper Hour, one of his acquired duties.

Spiritual blessings were gained through the ministry of our Convocation speaker, Jay Kesler.

A campus Crusade Team encouraged us in the Christian faith and stressed the importance of Christian witnessing.

Rev. Dan Taylar, Chaplain, is instrumental in planning enlightening chapel periods.

Variety in chapel periods is provided. The Lee College Singers inspired our hearts as they sang about Christ.

Social Life Committee member, Dave Klontz, carefully eyes visitor.

Would anyone guess that this could possibly be a professor?

SPOOKS AND GOBLINS REIGN

Halloween is the time for spooks and goblins. Each year the Social Life Committee plans a party in their honor. Unique costumes, humorous skits, and thrilling games made this year's bewitching night a most memorable one.

BANQUET HIGHLIGHTS THANKSGIVING SEASON

Dr. and Mrs. Ponnoecker are honored guests.

On November 22 the student body filed into the cafeteria. But it wasn't just for an ordinary meal. A real thrill was in store for them as they ate the traditional turkey and enjoyed a program featuring Professor Earl Reimer and the Cadence Trio.

Well, isn't this what a banquet is for?

Sue Baumgartner and Gary Schlobach are caught unaware by Helm photographer, Gerald Dafae.

Jay Johnson pins an corsage for Karen Zeller.

Decorations for the Valentine's Banquet are centered around the theme of "Hearts and Flowers."

BANQUETS SOCIAL

Dean Beutler and Mrs. Beutler, Professor Brown, Master of Ceremonies, and Mrs. Brown, Dean Gerber and Mrs. Gerber were guests of honor at the Valentine's Banquet.

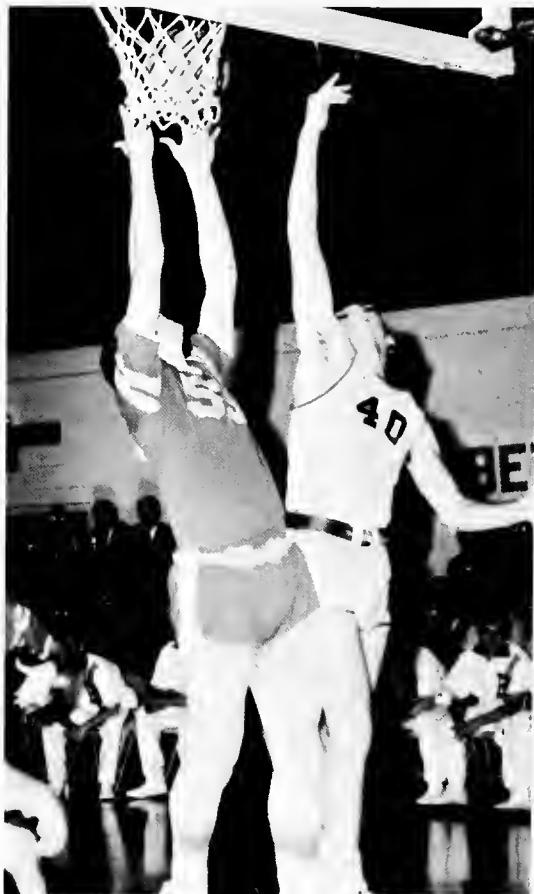

Linda Stephey presents a reading at the Valentine's Banquet.

HIGHLIGHT CALENDAR

Goodman Auditorium was the scene of the Christmas Banquet. The program, planned by the Social Life Committee, was based on the theme, "Thinking of Christmas." The Bethel Singers and our own gospel teams provided Christmas music for the winter scene. A bridge draped with evergreen and decorated with Christmas balls at the entrance was a part of the wintery scene. Beside the bridge stood a large snowman complete with scarf and hat. This lovely banquet was made possible by the contributions of friends of Bethel from Elkhart.

Fifty couples attended the Valentine's Banquet. The beautiful decorations added romantic atmosphere to the cafeteria. The banquets were characterized by creative decorations, interesting programs, superb food and loving successes.

This was a week-end no one will soon forget.

Bethel College was invited this year for the first time to join the Town and Gown Collegiate Council sponsored by the South Bend Chamber of Commerce. Representatives from Bethel, the Indiana University Center, Saint Mary's College, and Notre Dame University met together with businessmen and leaders of the community to "foster a spirit of cooperation and mutual assistance among the colleges and the community." Representing Bethel on the council are Koy Moore and Bill Hossler. Evelyn Artz and Arvid Stahly serve as the alternate representatives.

PROMINENT CAMPUS ORGANIZATIONS

Bethel Ladies' Auxiliary add color and interest to their missionary meeting by dressing in the native costumes.

Although the Homecoming Committee is not one of the Standing Committees of Student Council, it plays a vital role in Bethel's social calendar. Homecoming is the highlight of every school year. The 1965 Homecoming Committee members are Dale Taylor, Chairman; Arvid Stahly, Kris Kizer, and Carolyn Simmons planned an especially sensational weekend.

The Bethel Singers, a selected group from Concert Chair, perform at campus and community activities.

COUNCIL

Fowler, Connie Spitler, Dwight Bowers, Sandy Horsley, Jim Wisler, Harold Duncan, Sandy Shepard.

The Judiciary Committee consists of Deon Beutler, Eldon Carlson, Arvid Stahly, Carol Tinkle, Quinton Tschetter, Roger Thornton, Chairman. This committee provides a form of student self-discipline. Its duties are to have jurisdiction of the student lounges, hear appeals concerning student government, investigate cases of misconduct, and refer moral charges to the Student Affairs Committee.

COMMITTEES REPRESENT OUR IDEAS

The purpose of the Religious Life Committee is to promote spiritual growth through Christian activities. The committee plans prayer meetings, sponsors religious activities and approves religious club activities. Chuck McCarthy, Gerald Steele, David Show, Rich Thomas, Chairman, and Connie Spitzer are members of this committee.

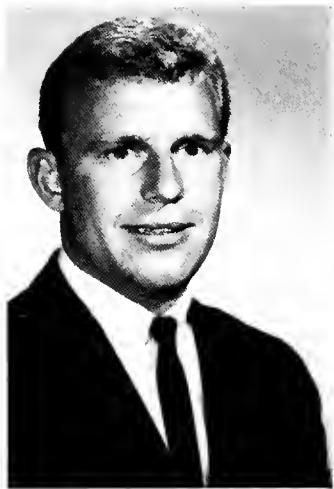

Keith Yoder, Connie Spitler, Eldon Carlson, and Bonnie Mobley, chairman, make up the Budget Committee; this committee submits a proposed budget of the Student Activity Fees to the council within three weeks after the beginning of the school year.

The Auditing Committee, consisting of Bonnie Mobley and Alvin Losie, audits the treasurers' books of all student organizations and submits a report to the Student Council by May 15th each year.

The purpose of the Elections Committee is to supervise all elections of the Student Association. Paul Runyon, Linda Stephey, chairman, and Sandy Horsley compose this committee.

Loren Clark, President

To unify relations between men of their respective residence halls, to represent men's thinking to the administration of the college, to regulate and enforce matters of residence government in cooperation with the resident counselor, and to establish a climate favorable to the spiritual, intellectual, and social growth of Bethel College are the purposes of the Bethel College Men's Senate. The Senate is a group of men representing the Men's League. Each Senator is an elected person from each residence hall.

MEN'S SENATE

Bethel College Senators: Tex Mabley, Laren Clark, David Shaw, Phil Hiatt, Hal Cutsholl, Norm Beck, Gary Schlaboch, and Ray Donaldson.

Bethel College House of Representatives: Bonnie Mobley, Connie Spitler, Joy Motteson, Peggy Engbrecht, Chorlene Sherman, Lu-

WOMEN'S HOUSE

The Dean of Women, three officers, five representatives from Shupe Hall, one representative from Steele's House and one representative each from House 11 and House 12 make up the members of the House. The purpose of the House is to unify relations among the women of the various sections of the residence hall, to represent women's thinking to the administration of the college, to regulate and enforce matters of residence government in cooperation with the Residence Counselor and the Judiciary Committee, and to establish a climate favorable to the spiritual, intellectual and social growth of Bethel College.

Bonnie Mobley, President

PROVIDING ACTIVITIES IN VARIOUS WAYS . . .

The purpose of the Social Life Committee is to encourage wholesome social activities. They provide opportunities for social activities such as banquets, all-school parties, and refreshment hours. Dave Klontz, Miss Schultz, advisor, Barbara Tucker, Eileen Nordgren, Carolyn Simmons, and Gory Bruney, chairman, make up the Social Life Committee.

The main activity of the Music-Lecture Committee is planning the Music-Lecture programs for the following year. Members of this committee are Professor Nordgren, chairman, Jourene Tschetter, Professor Brown, Professor Schultz, and David Tuckey.

The Youth Convention Committee consists of Quinton Tschetter, chairman, Paul D'Arcy, Professor Phipps, and Margaret Hossler. The purpose of the Youth Convention Committee is to provide a convention with Christian Fellowship for youth to attend. They arrange for the theme, speaker, program, and activities of the convention.

The Student Academic Affairs Committee is to serve as a liaison between the Student Association and the faculty committee on academic affairs and to provide a stimulus for academic pursuits. They also provide out-of-classroom activities for intellectual growth. Kay Moore, chairman, Richard Witmer, Bonnie Mabley, Doug Hall, and advisors, Dean Gerber and Deon Beutler, make up this important student committee.

INT'L RELATIONS

The International Relations Club is not restricted to social studies majors and minors. Any student interested in learning and understanding international current affairs is welcomed into its membership. Thought provoking and informative programs present an inside view of various political problems in the light of Christian concepts. In addition, seminars held throughout the school year present a challenge to club members.

Phil Hiatt, president

ENGLISH CLUB

The English Club offers fun and intellectual enlightenment to all those students interested in drama, prose, poetry, and other cultural pursuits. Meetings present opportunities for students to discuss, evaluate, or even take a role in various works of literature. Often club members attend out-of-town plays and lectures.

Stan Reilly, president

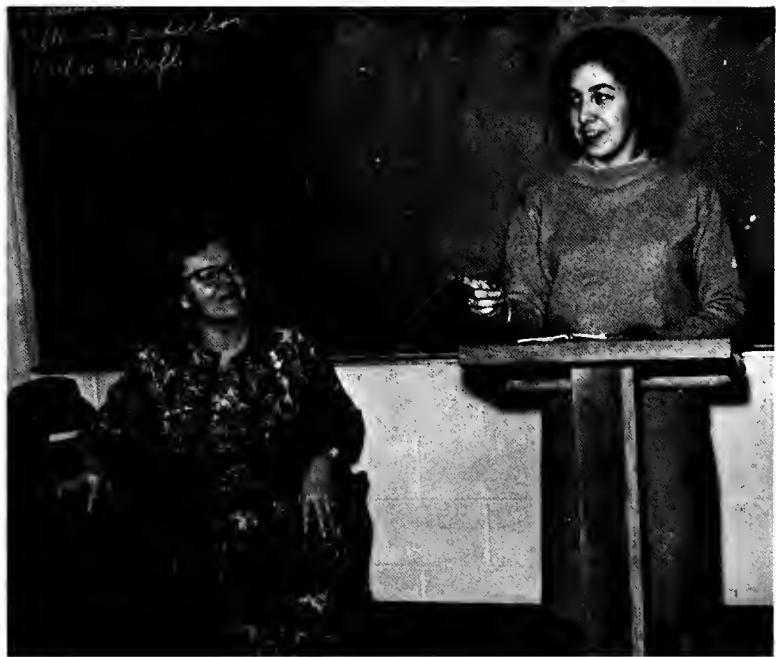

J. Robin Wright and Beverly Landis, representing the affirmative, Dave Shaw and Carol Sims, the negative present a debate on team teaching at a monthly S.E.A. meeting.

DEBATE TEAM

This school year witnessed the founding of many organizations. One such group is the Debate Team. Miss Olson met with a group of interested students early in the school year and, as a result, Bethel College gained a debate group. The purpose of the team is to instill within the students the ability to communicate with others in a more adequate manner and to encourage a spirit of competition of an intellectual nature. The team entered only one tournament and won four out of six debates. In competition with sixteen other colleges, Bethel placed third. This was a tremendous feat considering that most of team members had never debated in formal competition before, and that many of the competing colleges had organized debate clubs for a number of years.

Miss Olson, advisor, coaches a team member, Sandy Lonsfoote, on the techniques of debate.

lee Ball, Evelyn King, Al Smith. ROW 2: Professor Donald Gronitz,

Margaret Hossler, Connie Spitler, Charlene Sherman. ROW 3:

MISSIONARY FELLOWSHIP

The Missionary Fellowship organization is largely composed of students who plan to devote their lives to missionary service. In addition to regular meetings the fellowship conducts missionary prayer meetings, promotes a yearly missionary project, and sponsors an annual missionary convention. This year's project involved the purchasing of a portable tabernacle for Brazil. One of the highlights of the organization's activities was the Missionary Convention held on February 15-19. The convention was climaxed by a rally, featuring Taylor University's coach, Dan Odle, as guest speaker.

AMBASSADORS CLUB

Professor Lavell, advisor, puts his approval on the business being conducted at the meeting.

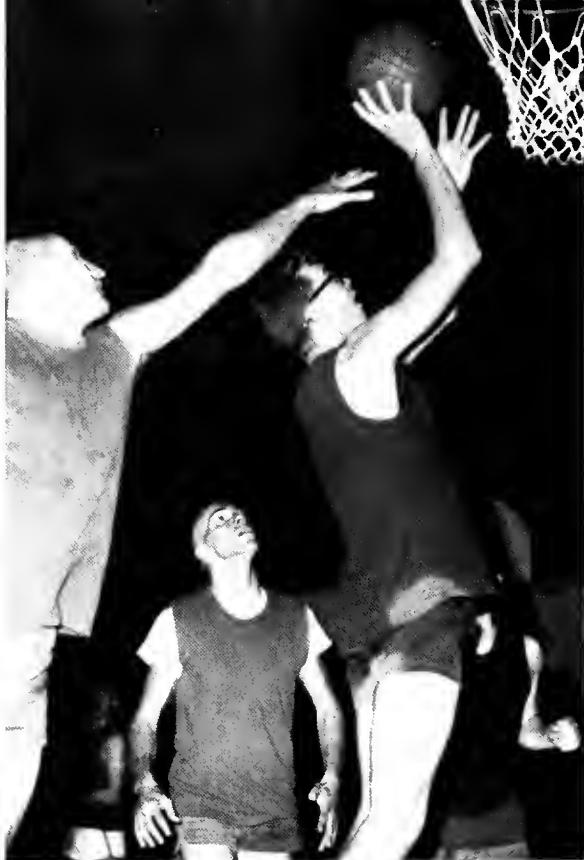

Dave Shaw, president

The Ambassadors Club is one of the leading Christian organizations on campus. Membership in this organization is open to all interested students. The Ambassadors enjoy hearing distinguished speakers and experiencing Christian fellowship. On Sunday afternoons and Saturday evenings, members spend time conducting meetings in local missions, jails, and nursing homes. These true "Ambassadors for Christ" are an appreciative witness in the community.

VARSITY

CLUB

The Varsity Club has been formed to promote a closer relationship and understanding between the athletes and the student body, faculty, and administration. The club is open to all boys who have received a letter for their achievements in varsity competition.

The Beacon Office has become the second home for Bob Zwoysky, editor.

Business Manager, Phil Hiott, and Beacon Advisor, Professor Reimer discuss an editorial.

Friday mornings find students waiting for the distribution of the college paper, THE BEACON. This bi-monthly publication provides the students with interesting information concerning their campus. Feature articles on controversial subjects attract considerable interest and gives food-for-thought for discussion among students. In addition to these facets, regular columns, like "Wise and Otherwise" and "Beacon Beams," highlight each issue. The over-all perspective of THE BEACON provides the students, as well as the faculty and community, with an honest look of Bethel College.

DIARY OF ANNE FRANK

On November 5 and 6, the Diary of Anne Frank audience was ushered into the Goodman Auditorium and faced a stage portraying a top floor of a factory.

Under the direction of Earl Reimer, Bethel College presented the well-known work of Frances Goodrich and Albert Hackett.

The story takes place during World War II in Amsterdam. Two Jewish families, the Franks, and the VanDaaans, are forced into hiding by the German Nazis. For two years they live side by side on the top floor of a Dutch factory.

The limitations of this unusual pattern of living often create tension and misunderstanding, yet it is here that thirteen year old Anne Frank grows from adolescence to young womanhood.

ESTRA-A NEWS MEDIUM

The Bethel College Orchestra, under the direction of Professor Mary Budensiek, successfully finished its third year of existence. Open to interested students, the orchestra members rehearse weekly. Two main concerts are given during the school year. These are held in the Fall and Spring. The orchestra is also given various chapel periods and performs with the Per Musica Society at the performance of the Messiah. The repertoire includes "Finlandia" by Sibelius, "Exodus," arranged by Previn, and Selections from the "Sound of Music," by Rogers and Hammerstein. The Bethel College orchestra has proven to be another effective medium which places "Bethel in the News."

MESSIAH, 1965

Directed by Elliott Nordgren, the Messiah chorus and orchestra, composed of Bethel students, community members, and alumni, provided a fine bocking for the soloists' voices following months of enthusiastic and animated direction. Filling the solo roles with excellent performances were Miss Alice Sherk, soprono; Miss Jaurene Tschetter, contralto; Quinton Tschetter, tenor; John Nelson, bass. Accompanying the Society was the Per Musica Society Orchestra, which consists of professional musicians from the area. Members from our own college orchestra accompanied also.

The performance of Mendelssohn's "Elijah" was performed in April under the direction of Mr. Nordgren.

CONCERT CHOIR TOURS

The Bethel College Concert Choir, under the direction of Professor Myron Tweed, is composed of approximately 48 students selected by auditions during registration week. The choir is an effective means of promoting good will in the community and surrounding areas. The choir shows a broad musical interest by singing various works from different periods.

It has become a tradition for the choir to take an annual tour each spring vacation. The 1966 choir tour was unusual in that it was the first time the choir toured Northwestern United States and Canada. The tour was indeed a rewarding and thrilling experience for each member. Members of this organization received many spiritual blessings as they had the opportunity to express the love of Christ through music.

ATHLETIC NEWS

Bethel Appoints Sports Director

Bethel College Saturday named two new members to its faculty, both of who have been active in the teaching fields overseas, according to President Ray P. Pannabecker.

Named to the post of athletic director and head coach for the school's teams was Donald Granitz. Miss Pauline Getz, who formerly was a part-time instructor at the school, has been added in Bethel's division of education, which department is headed by Dr. Stanley Taylor.

Granitz, who earned his bachelor's degree in sociology from Taylor University, Upland, Ind., holds a degree in physical education and has gained a master's degree in religious education. In college, and afterward, he travelled extensively in the Orient with the Venture in Victory basketball team. Afterward, he turned as head football and baseball coach as well as assistant professor.

In Charge of Sports

At Bethel, his duties and physical programs, in addition to at least one course, Robert Long, previously served in the public service in 1955, rectory, Sch

Surrounded by rivals, Mike Reynolds and Bob Leiter's chances for survival look slim.

In moments like this, skill and coordination are important factors.

The Bethel Pilots faced the 1965-66 basketball season with a string of bad records preceding. The new season brought a more experienced team and a new coach. What would be the results? The victory over the alumni was nothing thrilling, for it happens every year. But when the Pilots won their first game, enthusiasm began. Now with four games remaining to be played, the Pilots are setting new records, among them a new season high in wins. Never before has a Bethel team won more than eight games. Only two players will be lost by graduation, and Coach Gronitz will be back. We can say with a real meaning, "We're proud of our team."

JUNIOR VARSITY

The Junior Varsity squad is something new to most Bethelites. The 1962-1963 season was the last of the "B-team," until this year.

The Junior Pilots have had a rough season and are coming to the close of the season with only six victories. But the six victories and ten losses were all important; for the importance of the Junior Varsity is to allow players to gain experience. This year's squad was composed of all freshmen but two.

Anyone who has watched the J.V.'s throughout the season will tell of the marked improvement. Many of the players dressed for, and played in varsity games. So this season has taken the "greeners" away. Next year Coach Granitz will be looking forward to a much stronger team with the addition of these J.V.'s to full time varsity.

Girl's volleyball is also an essential part of the newly organized intramural program.

Two opponents jump in an effort to gain control of the ball.

INTRAMURAL PROGRAM ESTABLISHED

Gary Hinkle dribbles the ball away from opponents Jael Metzler and Dave Mann.

With Coach Don Granitz came a revolution in intramurals. Never before had there been such a wide and well-established program.

It began in the fall with intramural football. A field was marked off, referees were used, and footballs were flying. The Seniors went undefeated to gain the championship.

Then the basketball season found more games than ever being played. There was also better spirit and more competition than ever before. The seniors, juniors, and freshmen battled it out right to the end.

Also added to the intramural program were girl's basketball, volleyball, bowling, and softball. The men also were quite active in each of these sports.

Intramurals have added new strength and unity to the student spirit.

MINOR SPORTS

Cross-Country Team: Rich Thomas, Jim Whipple, Jock Edison, Ed Hanley, John Howblitzel and their coach, Hal Cutshall.

Cross-Country Team prepares for a meet.

This is the first year for Bethel to have an organized varsity cross-country team. In the three-way cross-country meet, Bethel was defeated by Spring Arbor. The only other meet was cancelled due to inclement weather. Although the team had a rather meager beginning, Bethel holds hope for the future years.

PROGRAM INITIATED

Ray Moore prepares to serve.

The Bethel College Tennis Team made a successful trip over a short but rewarding season. This first tennis team in the history of our college played a rather short two-game season, but were victorious in both efforts. Both matches were played with Ft. Wayne Bible College. Although there are only four on the team, they played excellent tennis, but could have showed better team scores if they had had a few more team members to stop the necessity of forfeiting.

Like a weather prediction, the forecast of a baseball season is liable to defy the forecasters. We have had many future athletes led through the efforts of one graduating senior, Earl Foster. A note of optimism must be sung for the Bethel Pilots after ending the '65 baseball season with a 2 win, 6 loss record. Their last two games showed the improvement that all had hoped for, and the experience of last year ought to make a good squad for the 1966 season.

PEOPLE IN THE NEWS

Enrollment At Bethel Sets Mark

A record enrollment of approximately 160 freshmen is expected this week as Bethel College completes its registration for the fall semester.

The record freshmen crop will push the school's total student body to over 500 for the first time in Bethel history.

Registrar Donald Conrad predicted that total enrollment might reach 510 students by Friday, the last day for late enrollment.

A total of 200 new students, including the freshmen, also is expected, Conrad said.

Bethel Seeks Vocalists For 'Messiah'

7-27-75
Bethel College, which will present its 18th annual performance of Handel's "Messiah" on Dec. 12, already is seeking additional singers from the community to participate in the event.

Prof. Elliott Nordgren of the Bethel Music Department, will direct the event.

In past years the community has joined in the college's presentation of the sacred oratorio, and about 150 voices are needed for the performances, including at least 80 persons from Bethel.

The combined musicians from the South Bend and Elkhart Symphony Orchestras and the Bethel College Orchestra will accompany the singers.

Beginning today from 7 to 8:50 p.m. the Science Hall auditorium rehearsals will be held every Monday until the day of the performance.

Registration for participation will be today and on Oct. 4 before and after rehearsal. There will be a $5 fee to cover cost involved.

PRESIDENT OF BETHEL COLLEGE

DR. R. P. PANNABECKER

In moving out of her teens Bethel College has served a hurried and pressured apprenticeship. Soon Bethel will be "of age" and with continued progress our Alma Mater will be on the threshold of full accreditation which will place her in the mainstream of American education. We welcome these opportunities even though they have been accelerated by the rapid pace of our world and by the recent unfolding importance of higher education.

There is a challenge to all of us to maintain the basics upon which our great nation has been built. We honor not only the famous three R's but join in accepting J. Edgar Hoover's additions of reason, respect, and responsibility. He also adds another which he says is sacred in America—religion!

We are pleased that the Christian perspective is evident throughout all our endeavors. The efforts of the various disciplines are sparked with the enthusiasm of thinking God's thoughts after Him. Our community of scholars is not necessarily inventing but discovering and realizing God's great plan for mankind. This attitude develops intellectual humility while it encourages the raising of questions and the seeking of answers.

The major mood and the conviction underlying instruction at Bethel College necessitates our total mobilization in the processes of Christian education. To this goal we press with all diligence!

FRESHMEN CLASS OF 1969

In September, the actorium was filled with excited freshmen. It was the first class meeting. The first order of business was to choose the class officers. Chosen were Dove Mann, President; Joel Metzler, Vice-President; Naomi Steele, Secretary; Cynthio Everest, Treasurer; Art Joyce, Chaplain; Joyce Snider, Social Chair-man, and Earl Reimer as faculty advisor.

It wasn't too long before our class paper, The Fog-horn, was on its way. It consists of many articles of interest, especially the one called Porthole Propaganda. This article consists of "dirt" which has been "dug up" by the staff. Mike Reynolds, being the editor along with a fine stoff, has made it on outstanding accomplishment of the class of 1969.

Our first party was held on February 5. It consisted of a sleigh ride which was followed by a chili supper. Forty-five college students gathered in Shupe Lounge after the ride for the chili. Entertainment which was directed by our advisor, Mr. Reimer, was enjoyable and, in some cases, embarrassing. Fun was the order of the evening.

All in all, our whole experience as freshmen has been an enjoyable one of getting acquainted with our fellow students.

SOPHOMORES

CLASS OF 1968

Unique. That was the word for the past sophomore year. The attention of being a freshman was no longer ours, yet the respect of being an upper classman was not within reach. But a year's experience gave us the assurance of being above the status of "greenhorn" on the campus. It was with a slight bit of pride that we so confidently pointed out the various procedures of registration to the slightly bewildered freshmen.

The howling winter winds were heard along with the excited cheers as the class intramural team, with a final burst of enthusiasm, edged its way into fourth place in the school standings. But the sophomores on the varsity basketball team won first place in the hearts of the sports enthusiasts as they bolstered the roster with their confident playing.

Spring found the '68ers selling candy, raking lawns, and washing windows in an attempt to raise the necessary funds for the activities of our final two years.

Giant steps have been taken as we strive for personal, social, and spiritual maturity. In this unique year we have gained a greater insight into our individual responsibilities, a greater realization that socially we cannot be independent, but interdependent, and a greater love for our Creator who gave us the privilege of experiencing the joys of life.

JUNIORS

Back in 1963 the class of "67" first set foot on the unfamiliar ground of the Bethel campus. The class contained a cross-section of many desires, goals and backgrounds. Some of these prospects have been achieved in so many ways, while still more have yet to be developed.

Socially, the officers of 1963-64, or the "swingin" freshman class, have attained the engagement level. Officers of that year were Doug Hall, President; Dan Artz, Vice President; Evelyn Artz, Treasurer; and Maxine Crawford, Secretary. That era dawned as a bright, hopeful year and brought with it many happy moments and also those which weren't so pleasing. Since the class was young, new, and broke financially, the activities were limited. One of the highlights of the year was the class party. This was featured by the headline group, our own Bethel Beatles. The girls will remember this by their frenzied action when the "long hairs" appeared. John Vargo was termed as the class answer to Ringo.

The Sophomore year was one of new and old faces preparing for life in the future. Some students didn't return, and others came as new recruits. Officers of this year changed expect for one, which was Evelyn Artz who retained her "hold" on the money. Newcomers were Gary Schlabach, President; Dwight Bosers, Vice President; and Jan Flary, Secretary. This school year included a chocolate sale to help with class funds.

This past year has proved to be the busiest in academics and class activities. December will always be remembered by those of the class as the month of the tree sale to help pay for the Junior-Senior banquet, class gift, Senior days, and other activities. As we look at the past and at the future the school motto stands firm in our minds, "With Christ at the Helm", how can we fail!

SENIORS

CLASS OF 1966

We the senior class of '66, have finally reached the goal to which we've been looking forward to. For many of us these four years have flown by rapidly; for others, this year marks the final step of the many years of part-time work; for all of us this year means the completion of numerous exams, projects, research papers, and daily assignments. Banquets, ballgames, the Music-Lecture series, and Christmas tree sales have all contributed to our vast store of memories through these years, and each year that has brought us added responsibilities and new friendships has taken us another mile up the mountain of wisdom.

Many things are behind us that we have experienced together, but ahead of us lies a number of different pathways of which we will each choose our own. Teachers, preachers, missionaries, and others will go forth from this place to serve our nation in different ways; but we shall always look back to Bethel with appreciation for what she has done in sending us to the place of our choice.

Korean Orphan Cho Appear At Morris C

The Bethel College Music Lecture Series begins this year with the World Vision Korean Orphan Choir, October 8th. The 37 member choir is composed of 25 girls and 12 boys, ranging in age from 8 to 16. They were selected from more than 15,900 children from 158 orphanages throughout Korea.

Sponsored by World Vision Inc., they represent more than 20,600 children in 19 countries. These orphans are sponsored and supported by individuals, families, church and civic groups through World Vision in North America.

This marks the third world tour of this famous choir. Their last tour in 1962-1963 covered 16,000 miles to deliver 31 major
